By the end of the presentation, participants will be able to:

- Have the tools necessary to apply communication techniques for people living with dementia
- Assist in solving behavioral challenges
- Have an understanding of how stress affects their ability to provide care and supervision of those suffering with dementia
- Utilize a person-centered approach to activities, dedicated to all the Care Givers who have struggled to find ways to engage a Memory Challenged Adult in meaningful activities.
- Understand how eating and socializing are inter-mixed when there is the need for dining with dementia

Event is free to attend. Refreshments will be provided.
