

Mid-Willamette Valley

Monthly Marketing Update- January 2023

My favorite moments of the past month have been the phone calls with individual seniors calling to order an updated copy of Retirement Connection. It has been heartwarming to know that we are making a difference and bringing value to our community. NEW- we are creating an interactive map, where a family can search by location to pick up a copy nearest their location. If your organization would like to keep a supply on hand to assist seniors looking for a copy- please complete this form to be included. If a senior does not drive or lives out of the area, we will continue to mail a copy.

Thank you so much to everyone that took advantage of the early bird discount for the 2023 Retirement Connection Guide of Mid-Willamette Valley! The guide, website, and all of our events remain free to the community because of the support of our sponsors. We are already working on the next edition and are constantly making updates and additions. Please let us know of additional resources you wish to see included in the upcoming guide. We are never too busy to be a resource to you. Let me know if we can help you post an event, post an article or news, deliver guides, or just be a sounding board.

Nugget Of Knowledge

"Normalize I'm willing to work on that instead of That's just how I am." — Unknown

I have realized then when someone gives me feedback, I tend to deflect and defend rather than just listen. I am working harder to acknowledge the feedback, rather than reply. I often prefer to solve a problem, rather than just hear the concern. Sometimes the best support we can offer others is a listening ear.
